FIRE CAUSES MINOR DAMAGE

A fire in a storage bin behind Matt's Key-stone Service corner of Pleasant Dr. and Main ave., Pleasant Township, caused only minor damage according to owner-operator Matt Mattonne. The fire broke out at 12:05 a.m. Approximately 22 men from the Pleasant Twp. Volunteer Fire Dept. responded to the alarm. Cause of the blaze is as yet undetermined. The fire, which destroyed several tires and tools, was contained to the storage bin and was extinguished within a matter of minutes. (Photo by Mahan)

Telephone Workers Win Wage, Fringe Benefit Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Telephone strikers won three-year wage and fringe benefit increases totaling nearly 20 per cent Thursday in 1968's fastest labor contract agreement thus far. It will affect some 600,000 workers across the nation.

The AFL-CIO Communications Workers estimated the settlement will cost the Bell System more than $2 billion and top company official said it will mean higher bills for many of the nation's 50 million telephone subscribers.

Some 200,000 strikers will vote in the next few days on whether to end their 15-day-old nationwide walkout and accept the agreement, which would set a pattern for most of the 400,000 other Bell System workers whose contracts expire later.

"The new Bell System pattern agreements are big—in every sense," said the union president, Joseph A. Beirne. The increased costs the settlements impose will inevitably have some effect on the rates our customers pay for service.

Humphrey Pledges Push For Human Rights Effort

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, linking himself with Negro civil rights figures of more than a century ago, pledged to a Negro audience Thursday he would work for "a new and complete national commitment to human rights."

"This means meeting the problem of hard core unemployment, of rats and roaches and rotten houses, and disease and ignorance in America's urban and rural slums," Humphrey told a session of the African Methodist Episcopal (AME) Church.

But Humphrey said it also means "dealing squarely and effectively with those who defeat their own cause by violence and riots and civil disorders."

Humphrey reminded an audience at International Airport—including three bands—that he had been doing a lot of talking for the Johnson Administration since 1964, but said "today I come to you in my own right."

"I shall run on the record of the Kennedy-Johnson, Johnson-Humphrey administrations," but I won't rest on it," Humphrey declared.

He said the administration was seeking to bring about "an honorable peace so the work of this democracy can go on full power...the correction of the wrongs that have beset us."

Clyde D. Sturdevant, 43, 183 S. Main st., Jamestown, N.Y., driver of the death car, was pronounced dead on arrival at Corry Memorial Hospital at 7 a.m., according to hospital officials.

A passenger in the car, Norman Marsh, 46, 27 Chapin st., Jamestown, was admitted to Corry Memorial Hospital with cuts and bruises of the head and several fractured ribs, the hospital spokesman stated. His condition is listed by officials as fair.

The accident occurred about 8:10 a.m., according to state police, when the Sturdevant vehicle was struck by an Erie-Lackawanna diesel engine at the Route 957 railroad crossing about eight miles east of Corry.

According to police, the vehicle, a 1966 Dodge, was completely demolished. Both men were thrown from the vehicle on impact, police said.

Bell Negotiations Halt When 28 Pickets Jailed

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Negotiations aimed at settling a strike by 13,000 Bell Telephone Co. workers were interrupted Thursday when 28 pickets were jailed here for violating a ban on mass picketing.

The Federation of Telephone Workers of Pennsylvania said its negotiators were pulled back from Thursday's scheduled talks while the fate of the jailed men was discussed.

Judge Edward J. Griffiths originally sentenced the men to 90 days in jail for violating a local injunction obtained by Bell forbidding mass picketing.

Later Thursday, Bell spokesman Francis Gill said all 28 were released after Judge Griffiths received assurance from the union that pickets would be restrained. Gill also said talks were scheduled to resume at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

Gill said a new hearing on the injunction was scheduled for early Friday morning.

The federation struck last April 26 under a wage-reopener clause at the midway point of a three-year contract.

Meanwhile Thursday, Bell started talks with another union, the Pennsylvania Telephone Guild, which represents 2,600 business office, marketing, coin telephone and directory department employees.

And in Washington the Communications Workers of America and Western Electric Co., a Bell sister company, announced tentative Thursday contract approval on a new nationwide contract. Bell spokesmen said they hope the approval will help end the strike in Pennsylvania in view of the federation strike.

Bell has obtained injunctions banning mass picketing by federation and CWA members.

Sewage System Improvements May Stimulate Building in Glade

Improvements in Glade Twp. sewage and water systems may stimulate the building of as many as 50 new houses within the next three years.

Township supervisor Gerry Archibald said Thursday that a number of people have expressed interest in building new houses when sewage trunk lines are constructed to take the place of present septic tank systems. Glade Manor and the surrounding area, as well as the Quaker Heights area, are the most likely sites for new housing; both areas will be served by trunk lines to be completed this year. The trunk lines from each area will feed into Warren Borough's sewage system.

Land is thought to be available for about 30 new houses in and around Glade Manor, and for about 20 new houses in the Quaker Heights area.

Glade Manor will soon have water supplied by Warren Water Co.; the subdivision has been using well water. Warren Water started installation of lines Monday, and the installation is expected to be completed within three weeks. This, too, will encourage new housing construction.

Work on Glade Manor sewage lines will begin soon after bids are opened by Glade Twp. Municipal Authority May 27, and the lines will be finished by next fall. Archibald said, Quaker Heights lines are under construction and will be completed soon.

Infantrymen Rushed To Aid of Marines Battling in Viet

SAIGON (AP) — American infantrymen have been rushed to the support of U.S. Marines battling strong North Vietnamese forces in the northeast corner of South Vietnam, where heavy fighting has been going on since Tuesday, the U.S. Command reported Friday.

Heavy air strikes and artillery barrages were launched against enemy positions northwest of Dong Ha, a big Marine base only 11 miles south of the demilitarized zone. The Army troops sent in were said to be of the 196th Light Infantry Brigade.

Command spokesmen said they had no information on one action, just two miles northeast of the base, where a North Vietnamese counterattack repulsed a Marine assault on an enemy bunker complex Thursday.

After running into heavy artillery and mortar fire and the counterattack, the Marines were reported to have pulled back to U.S. firepower pound the North Vietnamese positions through the night.

Other ground action in the area, the command said only that it was "continuing" Friday. Casualties of three days' fighting in the area were put at 196 enemy and 24 U.S. soldiers dead.

Figures released by the Command Thursday indicated American and South Vietnamese forces were killing 12 enemy for each allied soldier killed in bitter fighting this week around Dong Ha and Hue, the heaviest since the enemy's Tet offensive in February.

The action in the far north was the main ground activity reported, although several other sharp clashes occurred down the countryside into the Mekong Delta. Several of the fights were in the Saigon area.

In two actions, 18 and 23 miles northwest of the capital, 25 enemy were reported killed by helicopter gunships, fixed wing air strikes and artillery. No U.S. casualties were reported.

Shortly after midnight, Viet Cong gunners fired 20 mortar and rocket rounds into a South

Month-Old Stalemate On Peace Talks Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Indonesian offer of a shipboard site for preliminary talks on Vietnam was reported sunk Thursday by North Vietnam, leaving unbroken a month-old stalemate between Hanoi and Washington.

In Vietnam, The Associated Press quoted a North Vietnamese embassy spokesman as rejecting Indonesia's offer to send a cruiser to the Tonkin Gulf to serve as a meeting place for U.S. and North Vietnamese envoys charged with determining whether serious peace negotiations are possible.

The word from the Laotian capital killed still another of the fleeting hopes for agreement that have arisen sporadically since Hanoi accepted on April 3 a U.S. suggestion that preliminary talks be held.

The White House had agreed to the Indonesian proposal Wednesday.

The State Department made it plain that the U.S. government still objects to the site pushed hardest by the Communists—Warsaw. It reaffirmed an April 11 U.S. statement preferring a neutral site over the capital of Vietnamese military post on the outskirts of Saigon, Vietnamese spokesmen said two civilians were killed. At about the same time, small arms fire hit a medical laboratory in Thu Duc, about six miles from the center of the city. No casualties were reported and damage was termed light.

Live TV-Radio News Conference Set for 10 A.M.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will hold his first live television-radio news conference in nearly six months at 10 a.m. EDT, Friday, the White House announced Thursday.

Johnson has not held a live broadcast conference since last Nov. 17. He did hold one Jan. 1 at his Texas ranch which the television networks broadcast on a delayed basis.

The Friday conference will be held in the East Room of the White House.

Shafer Says State Confronted With Serious Revenue Crisis

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer said Thursday the state was confronted with a serious revenue crisis but added that he would cut his $2.1 billion budget before he would request new taxes.

"If this trend continues, we will have to take a complete new look at the budget," Shafer said in commenting on a report from his Budget Office that tax collections through the first 10 months of the fiscal year were $45.4 million below estimates.

"I'm alarmed," Shafer continued. "This may mean that we will have to tighten our belts a little more. I've said all along that Pennsylvania was in a fiscal crisis, but I would cut the budget before I asked for new taxes."

Shafer was forced last year to have a $264 million tax package enacted by the general Assembly.

The governor also said that the Commonwealth's dire financial straits could well affect the money available for such legislation as higher teacher salaries and aid to nonpublic schools — two more burning issues before the legislature.

"The revenue crisis must be related to teacher salaries and aid to nonpublic schools," Shafer went on. "We won't necessarily have to scrap these programs."

"But if the trend continues it may be, for example, that the $35 million for teacher salaries will not be available unless we adjust other programs. We'll just have to see what adjustments would have to be made."

Shafer indicated that review of the budget would not be completed until the end of May.

"I'm hopeful we can reverse the trend and make up some of the money that has been lost," Shafer's first action in light of the revenue report, when collections ran $51 million short of estimates to wipe out a small surplus over the first nine months, was to order a freeze on all job vacancies and a drastic curtailment in routine state expenditures.

Chief of Travel Development Will Visit Warren on May 14

Another commonwealth official from the State Department of Commerce has accepted an invitation to visit Warren for the membership kick-off dinner of the newly organized Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau.

Robert R. Shoemaker, director, bureau of travel development, will join Clifford L. Jones, secretary, Department of Commerce, here on May 14 as guests of the vacation bureau.

Final plans for the dinner were made last evening at the board of directors meeting of the bureau. The May 14 dinner will be held in the main dining room of the Three Flags Inn and will be attended by civic and business leaders from both Warren and Forest Counties.

Leroy Schneck was installed as president of the vacation bureau last evening at a well-attended session. Among the guests were Warren County Commissioners Blain Mead and Thomas Donnelly, Forest County Commissioner Lynas Shunk; Robert Wade, president, Scandia Mountains Association; James Olson, president, Sheffield Chamber of Commerce.

Also Frank Fago, Warren Postmaster; Wayne Mann, assistant supervisor, Allegheny National Forest; William Clinger Jr., attorney; Richard Marchione, manager, Warren Water Company; Don Neal, Warren

Times-Mirror and Observer writer; Kenneth Reem, Pennsylvania Gas Co.; John Bleckard, Bleckards Music Store; Charles McMillan, Pennsylvania Electric Co.; John Brady, Forest County; Bill Hanson, Hansons Hardware; Ken Stratton, Pennsylvania Furnace and Iron Co.; Jack Lutz, President Warren County Chamber of Commerce; Barry Epstein, Executive Director Warren County Chamber of Commerce.

Robert R. Shoemaker, who was appointed director of the state's Bureau of Travel Development in 1963, recently returned from a trip with Gov. Raymond Shafer on an official Travel-Trade Mission to six western European countries making presentations to travel agents, representatives of international carriers, and the travel press.

Following the mission, Bob extended the tour by continuing through Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Rumania, studying the travel development potential, writing, and sampling the food.

His appreciation of food and travel probably results from a long association, beginning in 1949, as manager of the Stevens House, a hotel landmark in Lancaster. Shoemaker's activity in civic affairs caused him to become the youngest president of the Lancaster Chamber of Commerce and later president of the Central Lancaster Development Corp.

In 1963 when he joined the department of commerce, the total bureau budget for advertising and 18 employees was $407,000. The present budget estimate for 1968-69 is $1,237,000 with $550,000 allocated to advertising.

Shoemaker's newest assignments are advisor to the Appalachia Regional Commission and coordinator of the Bicentennial Commission for the commemoration of the American Revolution.

Rocky Proposes Draft by Lottery, Lowering Minimum Voting Age to 18

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller proposed Thursday an armed services draft by lottery and lowering of the minimum voting age to 18.

In a speech prepared for delivery to University of Iowa students, the Republican presidential candidate said the present draft law is "arbitrary and inequitable."

Richard Nixon Proposes System of Tax Incentives

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon proposed Thursday a system of tax incentives and loan guarantees to combat poverty and rebuild slums. He acknowledged it lacked the drama of billion dollar offerings, but said it could "remove the ceiling from black aspirations."

The campaigning Republican said American efforts to "reconcile the races and to rescue the poor" must take a new direction, to foster self-reliance and self-respect, and to involve the poor in the rebuilding of their own communities.

"The old ways have failed, because the crisis of the old order is not the crisis of today," Nixon said in a nationwide radio address.

"In the ruins of downtown Washington, of Detroit and of Newark lie the ruins of a philosophy of government that has outlived its origins and no longer speaks to its time," he said.

Nixon said current programs have created a welfare bureaucracy locking the poor into "distal cycles of despair and dependency."

THAT WASN'T NICE

Although it is not recommended, there are many uses for supermarket shopping carts, other than toting groceries. Someone, whose identity may never be known, put these two carts from the Market St. Plaza to use as used beer can receptacles.

He called for revisions "that a young man could support." Under Rockefeller's plan, a youth reaching the age of 19 would accept a student deferment or take a chance on being drafted through a lottery. Upon graduation, the student would be subject to the draft for a one-year period.

"This lottery plan," Rockefeller said, "would limit each student's exposure to one year, either at 19 or on graduating from college. This plan is not only completely fair, it is practical."

The governor pledged to "vigorously support" lowering of the minimum voting age to 18.

If a man is old enough to fight for his country, he is old enough to vote, Rockefeller said.

"As a public official, I have no fear of exposing my ideas to the judgment of voters under 21," he said. "In fact, a good gauge of a man's actions as a leader is how well they appeal to the high ideals of youth."

Rockefeller's University of Iowa appearance was the second stop on a three-city swing through Iowa to kick off his Midwest campaign for the GOP presidential nomination.

Two-Car Mishap Causes $500 Damage

A two-car accident at the intersection of Carver st. and Madison ave. Thursday caused an estimated $500 damage according to borough police.

The accident occurred at 3:40 p.m. when a car driven by Rebecca Ann Tuller, 31 Hemlock st., traveling south on Carver st. pulled into the intersection at Madison ave. and was stuck by a car driven by Helen E. Nollinger, 42 Hemlock st. police said.

There were no injuries reported, according to police. Damage to the Nollinger vehicle was estimated at $325, while damage to the Tuller car was set at $175, police reported.

According to police, Tuller will be charged with a right of way violation.

Jamestown Man Wins Medal For Rescuing Fellow Worker

PITTSBURGH—A Jamestown, N.Y., man, who rescued a fellow worker from drowning at the Kinzua Dam site last year was honored Thursday by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission.

John L. Schutt, 29, saved John J. Druggan on March 28, 1967 when Druggan, working at night, fell into the Allegheny River and was carried downstream by the cold, swift current.

Schutt, a mechanic, ran 550 feet to where Druggan was thrashing in the water, hampered by his jacket and tool belt. Spotting Druggan with his flashlight, Schutt tied a heavy electrical cord to a post, descended 10 feet into the water and swam 35 feet to reach his fellow mechanic who was gasping for breath after submerging several times.

Schutt seized Druggan and towed him 30 feet to a cofferdam where both were lifted to safety by a crane.

Schutt was awarded a bronze medal and $500 by the commission.

Students Picket St. Bonaventure

OLEAN, N.Y. (AP) — A decision by St. Bonaventure University officials to forbid a campus appearance by controversial poet Allen Ginsberg prompted picketing Thursday of the school's administration building.

The 45-minute demonstration by an estimated 40 students was sparked by the announcement of the ban by the Very Rev. Reginald Redion, president of the Roman Catholic university. The bearded Ginsberg, an antiwar activist and advocate of the legalization of marijuana, had been invited by two professors to appear at a literary workshop on campus May 13.

Father Redion said he learned of the invitation only by reading of it in the student newspaper.

He said his decision was "not based on a fear of Mr. Ginsberg's ideas or philosophy of life."

Cape Kennedy and nearby Cocoa, Fla., are rich in bird life.

Car Fire Reported

Warren Borough firemen responded to an alarm at 4:04 p.m. Thursday when a car owned by Mrs. Robert Horner caught fire near the intersection of Locust st. and Pennsylvania ave. According to firemen faulty wiring was the cause of the fire. There were no injuries, and no serious damage was reported. Firemen were on the scene about 25 minutes.

Commissioners Commend Veterans Groups

The Warren County Commissioners on Thursday went on record as supporting the actions of the veterans' organization's in planning for appropriate Memorial Day ceremonies.

The commissioners, Dr. David K. Rice, Blain M. Mead and Thomas J. Donnelly noted that every year since 1868, when the first National Memorial Day service was inaugurated, Americans everywhere have paused from their labors to honor their departed veteran friends.

"It is fitting," the commissioners said, "that a grateful nation such as ours has declared May 30 as a National Day of Remembrance for our deceased veterans."

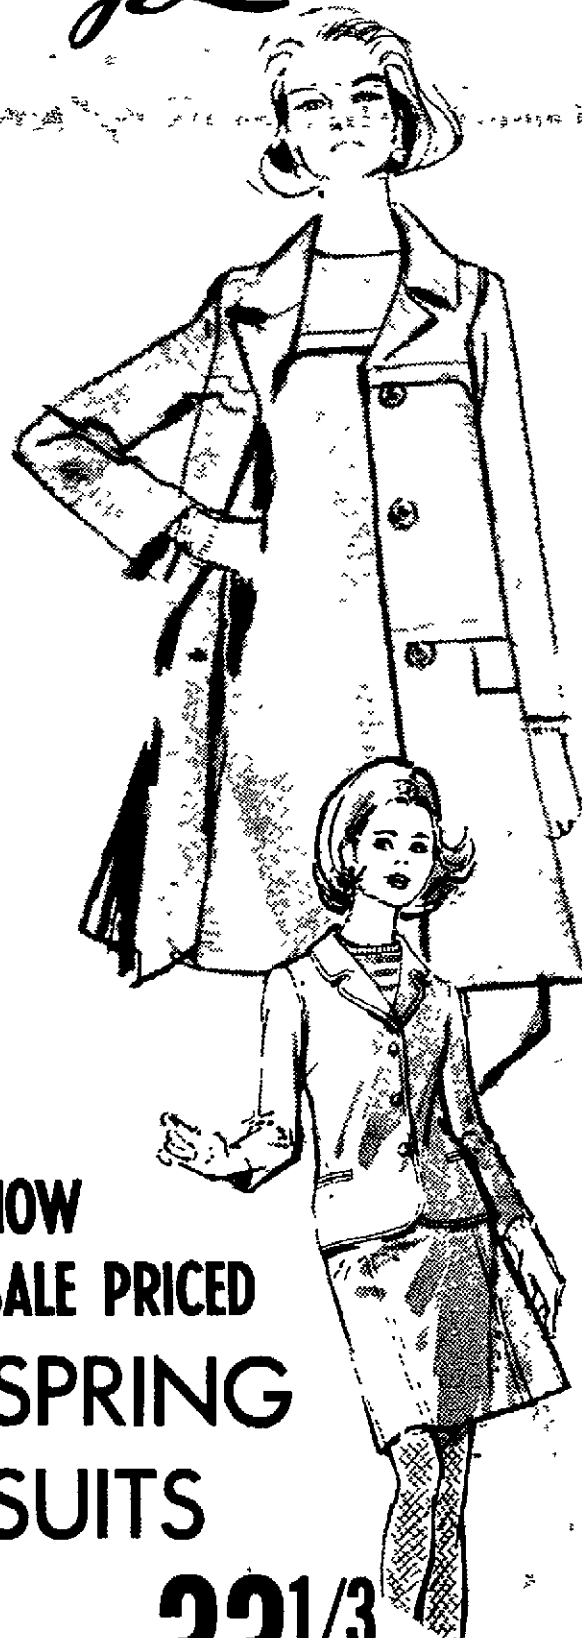

"The spirit of patriotism is not dead as long as we have interested citizens such as you."

The commissioners stated they joined these great organizations in setting aside daily tasks so that all may pay special tribute to deceased veterans.

London's for the Birds Again Now That the Air Is Cleaner

LONDON (AP) — Cleaner air in London is bringing back the birds.

Such rarities as hoopoes, great northern divers, waxwings, bearded tits, house martins and snow buntings are on view again after shunning the soot-laden atmosphere of the metropolis for up to a century.

Hawks are seen hunting within a few hundred yards of London's Piccadilly Circus. Ornithologists have spotted rare birds in the park at the rear of Queen Elizabeth's Buckingham Palace.

It's all due to the ban on smoke and other noxious fumes around inner London, says a bird sanctuary report out Thursday.

Britain's Clean Air Act, introduced in 1956, bans smoke-producing fuel from domestic hearths and industrial pollution of the atmosphere. It has made the city's air fit to breathe.

Lord Hurcomb, chairman of the British committee on bird sanctuaries, said the purer air resulted in more insects on which the birds feed.

A small colony of house martins was found on houses near Primrose Hill—the first of the species to breed in inner London for nearly 80 years.

Even a rare fish-hunting osprey had been spotted over Regent's Park, Hurcomb said.

In some cases—like the Canadian geese in St. James's Park—the increased numbers are becoming embarrassing, he added.

Reuther Renews Fight With AFL-CIO President

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — President Walter P. Reuther of the United Auto Workers Union renewed his fight Thursday with AFL-CIO President George Meany and hinted at pulling the UAW out of the powerful labor federation.

Reuther declared on the eve of the UAW's 21st constitutional convention that if his call for a special AFL-CIO convention is refused, "We could not in good conscience continue to be confined within the restricted limits of an organization ruled by the dead hand of the past."

He said the 1.5 million-member UAW will be obligated "to take those steps that offer the best prospects" for achieving the purposes of a modern and progressive labor movement. "Those steps" weren't spelled out in Reuther's written report to be given to UAW delegates arriving here Friday and made available in advance to The Associated Press. The week-long convention opens Saturday.

Asked if Reuther meant breaking off with the AFL-CIO, a union spokesman replied: "What else is left?"

The spokesman declined to comment on a published report that top UAW officers have voted to stop payment of $1 million dues a year for AFL-CIO membership. The report said this action would be submitted to the delegates for approval.

Withholding of dues would in effect leave the auto workers in the federation in name alone.

In the past year or so Reuther has charged the AFL-CIO with stagnating under Meany's leadership. His call for a special convention to revitalize the federation was accepted March 12 by the AFL-CIO executive council on the condition that the UAW agree to abide by the convention's decisions.

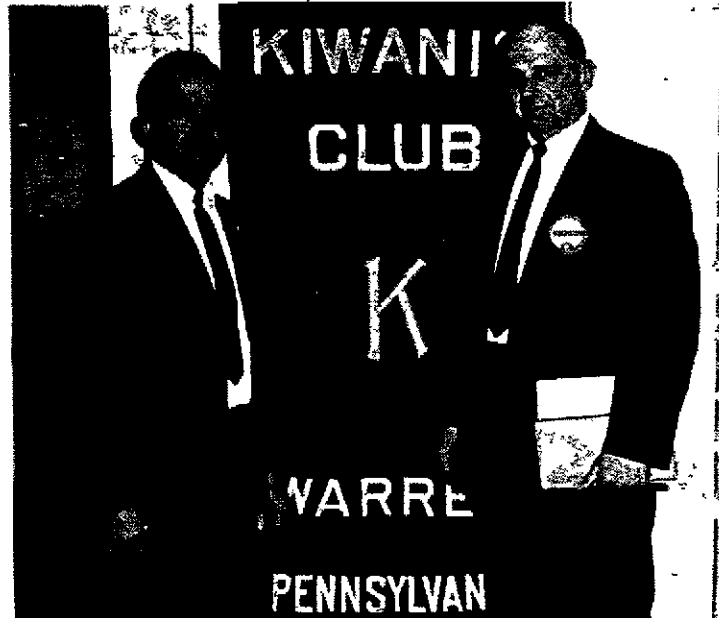

The UAW refused to accept this condition.

While not mentioning Meany by name, Reuther said in his report "It is a sad and disappointing fact that the AFL-CIO leadership shies away from a full and open confrontation with the arguments and the proposals the UAW has advanced to make American labor more relevant and more effective."

Thieves Break Into Printz Kane Store

KANE — Several items of clothing, sports coats, jeans etc., were taken from the Printz Co. store on Fraley street here sometime during Tuesday night by a thief who apparently climbed a metal support at the rear of the building to cut glass from a window and gain entry.

Manager Tom Warner discovered the burglary when he opened for business Wednesday morning. There was no money loss, Warner said.

Following the program Wingert answered questions pertaining to county agriculture.

Broken Steel Pieces May Prove Clue to Silver Bridge Collapse

POINT PLEASANT, W.Va. (AP) — Nine small pieces of broken steel weighing less than two tons may provide a clue to the cause of the Silver Bridge collapse last December.

Charles Schetty, in charge of the structural analysis section of the federal bridge probe group, said today the pieces have been selected for laboratory analysis. They come from about 3,000 tons of Silver Bridge debris scattered on the banks of the Ohio River here.

Federal investigators have been sifting through a big rust pile which was once the Silver Bridge for nearly five months, searching for the piece of metal which broke first—plunging the bridge and 46 persons to their deaths in the Ohio River.

A public hearing on the disaster is scheduled to be held in Charleston May 7.

Students Apply Now

This summer there's going to be a bumper crop of students seeking employment and a scarcity of jobs. Any high school or college student planning to work during the summer recess would be wise to get his applications in right now.

According to the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics there will be 300,000 more young people between the ages of 16 and 21 flooding the summer job market this year than there were in 1967. All told, 3.8 million new workers will be on the scene and of this total 2.8 million represent applicants for summer jobs.

Employment offices at high schools and colleges can open doors for students. We advise high schoolers to see the school counselor and colleagues should visit the campus employment office. Another area for summer jobs is the local office of the state employment service. Here a student can be advised of

The New 'War Profiteers'

(c) N.Y. Times News Service

WASHINGTON—Every war has produced a new crop of "war profiteers," and the Vietnam war is no exception. What is original now is that the arts of cheating the government are improving and the techniques for exposing the profiteers are declining.

The task of eliminating excessive profits on government contracts and subcontracts is the responsibility of the Renegotiation Board, which was established by the Renegotiation Act of 1951. It enabled the government to recover more than $800 million through renegotiated contracts in the Korean war alone, but since then its authority and its personnel have been substantially reduced.

For example, in 1952, the board had about 550 employees. Today it has about 180, though the level of defense expenditures has increased from $25 billion to over $45 billion in the last few years. Also, more and more exemptions have been written into the renegotiation act since it first passed the Congress. Under the original act, contracts of $250,000 and more were subject to review by the board. This was amended in 1954 to exempt all contracts under $500,000, and in 1956, to exempt all contracts under $1 million.

In addition, certain important categories of goods were withdrawn from the board's supervision. For example, "durable productive equipment," meaning machinery and tools with a life of over five years; and also "standard commercial articles of services." Similarly, certain agencies originally covered were removed from the board's supervision, including the Department of Commerce, the Bureau of Mines, the Coast Guard, and the Bureau of Reclamation.

This issue is now coming to the fore for two reasons: It takes about a year and a half between the time contracts are awarded until the renegotiation board begins its review. So the vast Vietnam buildup of 1966 and 1967 is just now coming under the board's scrutiny, and the board's tenure ends this summer.

The likelihood is that it will be extended for another two years, but it will come under attack

'Messages' For Legislators

WEEK OF THE DELUGE — Pennsylvania's lawmaking brood, puffing to get back in the swim of legislative routine this week following a 26-day election recess, found itself literally deluged by what certainly must be some sort of record of "messages from His Excellency."

Four such major "messages" were thrust upon legislators during the week by Governor Shafer calling for action in such fields as the urban crisis, consumer protection, traffic safety and the unveiling of his near-billion-dollar special funds budget.

The special funds budget is an interesting document rounding out to $444 million — and (quite naturally) an increase, this time in the amount of $140 million over fiscal 1967-68. This budget incidentally is in addition to His Excellency's $2 billion general fund budget for the upcoming fiscal year now being mulled over by lawmakers.

BIGGEST SINGLE CHUNK — The Motor License Fund at $911 million by far and wide comprises the largest piece of the special funds pie, comprised for the most part of monies received from the liquid fuels and fuel use taxes, licenses and fees of motor vehicles, federal highway aid, etc.

Obviously, pitching for an increase in license fees for Pennsylvania's motorists, His Excellency, in his special funds message declared:

"Every legislator and every Pennsylvanian must be made aware of the present low price paid for the privilege of owning and operating a motor vehicle on our roads. Our fees for license plates have not been raised for a quarter of a century."

ON THE OTHER HAND . . . — The Pennsylvania AAA Federation on the other hand apparently doesn't see fee to fee with His Excellency on the license fee increase possibility. In a letter to members of the Legislature, the AAA summed it up rather succinctly:

"To the critics who argue that our $10 registration fee is too low, we say that, in many states with a higher fee, part of the fee is for non-highway use. Furthermore, should there be a penalty for having a low registration fee?"

The motor federation pointed out that it would "strongly object to any proposal that does not treat all highway users equitably and fairly" in the area of finding ways and means of acquiring additional revenue to meet Pennsylvania's highway needs. What did the AAA mean by "equitably and fairly"?

It pointed out that official figures of the State Department of Revenue for fiscal 1966-67 show receipts of $46,081,922 from the registration of passenger cars and station wagons — while a total of $41,903,478 was derived from the registration of trucks and commercial trailers. Quoth AAA Executive Vice-President Charles E. Pugh:

"Any additional assessment that discriminates against the passenger motorist should be rejected as unfair."

WHO GETS THE CREDIT? — Shafer Administration partisans, looking back on last week's voter approval of the five constitutional convention proposals have been referring to the action as a "resounding victory" for His Excellency!

Was it really? Go back to early 1967 when the Governor found it impossible to move the then proposed constitutional convention legislation through legislative channels: had it not been for Democratic votes in the House of Representatives the measure would have been so constitutional convention in the first place!

Who campaigned a short time later for electorate approval of the convention idea finally approved by the Legislature, and then again this year for the April 23 approval of the convention recommendations? Look at the record: Democrats and Republicans "co-chaired" the convention itself — and the (joint) effort to gain electorate approval April 23. The facts dictate a victory for the joint effort of both — not one or the other, partisan pandit notwithstanding.

Is Bobby Inevitable?

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK—After personal exposure to Democratic primary campaigns in New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Indiana, California and Oregon, and considerable political gossip with pros (and even a few voters!) in Washington, D.C., Massachusetts, New York, Idaho, Virginia, North Carolina and Missouri, not to mention the Democratic governors conference at St. Louis, I offer the following observations for what they may be worth.

Robert F. Kennedy's greatest asset in the campaign is the aura of invincibility that his family name and its political history evoke. — Eugene McCarthy is considerably stronger personally and has a much more potent organization than is generally believed. — Hubert Humphrey may be able to win only if McCarthy and Kennedy split the primaries, in which Humphrey is not competing; the vice president's party organizational strength probably might not be enough to overcome Kennedy or McCarthy if either could sweep the primaries.

Humphrey's position will be powerful, however, if Kennedy and McCarthy fight each other to a standoff in the primaries. McCarthy's unrealized strength and the fragility of Kennedy's position make this at least a possibility, if by no means a good bet. Kennedy's position is fragile because probably any primary loss, and certainly two of them, would shatter the widely prevailing notion that his nomination is all but inevitable. McCarthy's strength is unrealized, despite his primary achievements in New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, because with Kennedy in the field McCarthy is not as yet taken seriously as a potential nominee.

This is in the teeth of the evidence. In Pennsylvania, as only one example, McCarthy rolled up about 400,000 votes last week. In 1964, neither President Johnson nor the Democrats nor Gov. William Scranton for the Republicans came anywhere near that total (both were virtually unopposed write-in candidates).

In California, some of the state's most experienced Democrats say privately and rather unbelievably that McCarthy is at least neck-and-neck with Kennedy at this point, and the much more poll shows McCarthy running ahead. In Oregon, the McCarthy men seem far advanced over the Kennedy effort, in organizational terms, and an informal Los Angeles Times poll showed Kennedy leading by only 25 to 19 per cent with almost 40 per cent of the respondents undecided.

Nevertheless, an experienced Oregon Democrat, who is typical of many, is convinced Kennedy will win. Why? "Well, with the name and all that money and the way the Kennedys always run their campaigns," he said, "I think they'll just overpower McCarthy."

This argument demonstrates again that nothing succeeds like success and that in the world of politics there is no substitute for victory. So the Kennedy reputation for winning precedes Bobby like a battering ram, beating support out of reluctant local powers, sweeping up the bandwagon riders and brushing aside the considerable number of people who either dislike or fear the supposedly "ruthless" candidate. (In Oregon, anti-Bobby wags are talking about bumper stickers that would read "Dynasty be Damned" and "I'll Wait for Teddy.")

Against this, McCarthy offers, first, his army of student canvassers — a phalanx so potent that the Kennedy forces now are trying to subvert it by attacking McCarthy's voting record through ads in college newspapers. This is a noticeable and perhaps significant switch from the days right after the New Hampshire primary when Kennedy insisted that he only wanted to help McCarthy combat Lyndon Johnson.

But McCarthy has more than student support. In an age of overwhelming institutions — the government, the corporation, the union, the city, the estate, the highway, even the Kennedy family — McCarthy in his distinctive manner seems to many Americans to be one man against the juggernaut — or, as his Oregon campaign slogan puts it, "The Man the People Found."

Against the notion of Kennedy's invincibility, therefore, McCarthy provides a classic challenge. On the results, the first of which will be seen in Indiana next Tuesday, depend not only his fortunes, but perhaps Humphrey's too.

PEARSON & ANDERSON

Does Bobby Have Maturity?

(Editor's Note — Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson today continue their diagnosis of the Presidential candidates, this time focusing on Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.)

WASHINGTON — Robert F. Kennedy is a man with a terrific Senate record, a lot of courage — sometimes bordering on gall — and a strong belief in the divine right of Kennedy's. Though the 13 colonies discarded the divine right of kings 100 years before Bobby's Irish ancestors migrated to Boston, he still operates on the theory that the nearest relative should inherit the White House throne.

What the American voter will have to decide is whether he wants a President whose chief qualifications are brilliant ability — not always well directed — a lot of political know-how, access to a family fortune of $300,000,000, and the glamor of the Kennedy name. The voter will also have to decide whether Bobby has matured enough to profit from the mistakes of the past.

This judgment will have to be exercised particularly by liberal voters who tend to regard Bobby as their new knight in shining armor, but who regarded his late employer, Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin, as the embodiment of evil.

Bobby latched onto McCarthy's staff as a result of the fact that old Joe Kennedy early had contributed $50,000 to the Wisconsin Senator's witch-hunting campaign and helped in a conference with the late Cardinal Spellman to plot McCarthy's course. Old Joe, therefore, was in a position to ask that his son be put on McCarthy's payroll. He was.

Significantly, this was at a time when most mature citizens had reason to realize that McCarthy was a fake. He had been thoroughly exposed for defending the Nazi storm troopers who massacred unarmed prisoners at Malmédy in the Battle of the Bulge. He had challenged the patriotism of Gen. George Marshall and Dwight Eisenhower. He had teamed up with anti-Semitic rabble-rouser Gerald L. K. Smith in an investigation of Anna Rosenberg. He had slandered dozens of loyal Americans without evidence. He had called the Democratic party the "Party of Treason" and accused the Truman administration of harboring 205 card-carrying Communists in the State Department.

Bobby Kennedy now wants to be head of the Democratic Party and receive the blessing of the Trumanites.

Sen. Kennedy's friends now argue that he was too young to pass judgment on Joe McCarthy, that he knows his mistake now that he has become a liberal. The truth is, however, that Bobby has never repudiated the demagogue from Wisconsin. When in July 1953 every Senator walked off McCarthy's committee in protest over his methods, Bobby remained on his staff. He finally quit three weeks later because he couldn't get along with Roy Cohn, then general counsel.

Two years afterward, Bobby walked out of a banquet where he was being honored as one of the nation's ten "outstanding young men" because the main speaker, the late Edward R. Murrow, was critical of Joe McCarthy.

When McCarthy died in 1957, Kennedy not only attended the funeral in Washington but also flew to Appleton, Wis., for the interment.

Bobby's biggest investigation for McCarthy was into Allied trade with Communist China during the Korean War. Kennedy was outraged over the fact that the British, Greeks and other allies were shipping supplies to the Chinese for possible use against American troops in Korea.

Yet when the same question came up 13 years later, Sen. Robert Kennedy voted against cutting off foreign aid to countries engaged in trade with North Vietnam. As the liberal ideologist, he was no longer indignant against shipments that might be used against American troops — in this case in Vietnam.

During his Communist-hunting days, Bobby also presented the case against Capt. Irving Peress, whose promotion to major gave the right wing a cause celebre. McCarthy had made Peress a national figure after Peress took the Fifth Amendment rather than answer questions about alleged Communist ties. From coast to coast, the right-wing clique cried: "Who promoted Peress?"

It was Bobby Kennedy who, at a Senate hearing, put the question to Peress which later reverberated around the nation via the right wing.

The late President Kennedy has been criticized for not sounding off against McCarthy as did other Democratic Senators. In explanation JFK told James McGregor Burns: "I was rather in ill grace personally to be around hollering about what McCarthy had done in 1952 and 1953 when my brother had been on the staff in 1953. That is really the guts of the matter." Perhaps this is why old Joe Kennedy bolstered up his third son. "He's a great kid. He hates the same way I do."

Has Sen. Kennedy now grown up enough to profit from the mistakes of the past? A future column will attempt to give the answer.

Southern Democrats are talking about uniting behind a regional favorite son, to bolster their bargaining position at the Presidential convention. By standing together, they hope to be able to win the Vice Presidential nomination for their candidate.

The biggest problem, apparently, is to agree upon a favorite son. No poll has been taken, but a majority of Southern leaders seem to prefer Gov. John Connally of Texas.

Trees Outlived Him

Early in December 1799 George Washington began to work in the rain. He was 67 years of age, six foot one, 200 pounds of dignity. The revolution was over. Trade with England was normal. The Father of our country looked over his estate at Mount Vernon, Virginia, and decided that the place was in despair.

In a month, the 1800's would begin and the general wanted Mount Vernon to be at its best. He was out of politics, except as a counselor. John Adams, the Federalist, was in Massachusetts, and the new republic was about to enjoy a decade and more of peace.

December was a rainy month. It came down cold and steady out of Prince Georges County across the dotted swiss Potomac to Mount Vernon. General President put a great coat on every morning, draping it over his shoulders, and walked the mud in worn boots. He was armed with a thick knife.

There was no sign of age in him. He strode as erectly as though he was seated on a horse. The workmen and slaves on the estate bowed as he passed, and he nodded to each in turn. Washington might have postponed the work for prettier days. But then he would be reduced to sitting inside at that cherry-wood desk writing letters. So he worked.

He walked from glade to hummock and across farm land, squinting at the big trees. Step number one, he thought, was to be rid of all the diseased trees. He examined the bark and root structure carefully. Those that must die were marked with an eyelevel slash of the bark on the north side.

The rain soaked through the coat and inside his clothes. In a month, British ships would be coming up the Potomac laden with goods for Mount Vernon. Almost everything except seed and food had to be bought abroad. Dry goods, needles, farm implements, tools, staples of all kinds. The General owned 70,000 acres in Virginia and 40,000 more on the Great Kanawha. When he placed an order with traders in Great Britain, it was as though he was buying everything for a small town.

The second week of December 1799 brought sleet. The General complained to Mrs. Washington that he had laryngitis. She urged him to take medicine. Rather severely, he said: "You know I never take anything for a cold. Let it go as it came." He believed that the only way to treat a cold is with contempt.

At three in the morning, he awakened Martha. He would not have done this unless he was worried. The General shivered in spasms. He said he was having an attack of ague. The great chest heaved rapidly and superficially. He could barely speak. She sat at his side, Medicine, like the nation, was in its infancy.

At dawn, Mrs. Washington donned her robe and dust cap and got her husband a mixture of molasses, vinegar and butter. The General choked on it. His throat hurt so much that he could not swallow. She sent a servant to bring the overseer of the farm. He had experience in bleeding.

neck. Physicians were summoned, as Washington gasped for air.

The white-wigged gentlemen withdrew more blood, gave him noxious substances to gargle and administered cathartics. He had lost strength fighting the cold in the forest; he had lost more through withdrawal of one quart of blood. He was probably suffering from a streptococcus infection of the throat and bronchial pneumonia.

Within 48 hours, the big virile man was reduced to gray struggling wreckage. Saturday, December 14, 1799, came up clear and warm. The capital had been alerted that the First President was gravely ill. Ironically, George Washington refused to call the city by its name. To him, it was "Federal City," never Washington.

At 11 o'clock on that Saturday, he stared heavily-lidded at a doctor bent over the bed. "This is the debt which we all must pay," he whispered. "I am not afraid to go." At 11:30, he gasped and was gone.

The condemned trees outlived him. . . .

Price-Wage Spiral Underway

Nothing that can or will happen in the foreseeable future will halt inflation soon. The price-wage (or wage-price) spiral is firmly underway. For six months, the cost of living, as measured by the government's Consumer Price Index, has been climbing at an annual rate of 4 per cent, highest in 17 years.

This spiral will not be stopped now by anything short of a major business slump. This country is neither facing nor will it deliberately invoke a nationwide economic decline in order to reverse the uptrend of prices or wages.

Even a complete end to fighting in Vietnam will not cut war spending immediately. Only when there is solid, reliable peace will there be a substantial cut in the defense budget and a general return of men to civilian life and the labor force. Both developments of course would ease inflation pressures.

Wages are rising at a rate of 6-9 per cent a year, much faster than the rate of rise in productivity (efficiency per worker.) Business is covering these increasing costs by increasing prices. Consumers have enough cash on hand and pent-up wants to pay the prices asked; whether or not you as a consumer personally grumble about prices, the pace of buying is accelerating. And whether or not you as a businessman personally grumble about profits, latest reports indicate corporation profits as a whole rose a fat 11-13 per cent in 1967's first quarter over 1966's first quarter.

There it is: a rate of inflation we haven't suffered since the Korean war, brought on by our failure to adopt appropriate restraining policies as the Vietnam war increasingly distorted our economy's balance.

Inflation was beautifully under control until the Vietnam war escalated in mid-1965. It is imperative to recall this, for it shouts the message that when the pressures of this war cease, we can work our way back to that modest yearly rise in prices which in our dynamic economy is considered the equivalent of price stability.

Here is the decade's record on the cost of living, measured by December-to-December changes in the CPI:

YEAR	Pct. rise in living costs
1961	+0.6
1962	+1.2
1963	+1.7
1964	+1.1
1965	+2.0
1966	+3.3
1967	+3.1
1968 (Rate)	+4.0

Translated into dollars-and-cents terms, this means that the marketbasket which cost you $10 a decade ago costs you $11.96 now. It means that the $1 which bought 100¢ of goods and services in 1957-59 buys only about 83¢ worth now. It means that the $1 which bought 100¢ of goods and services in 1939 buys only about 40¢ of similar goods and services now.

There is nothing — mind you, nothing — on the horizon to stop this erosion.

Services, ranging from medical care to all types of repairs to tuition fees to finance charges, are in a relentless upturn; in the vast field of services, wage increases are far outpacing productivity increases. Food prices won't go anywhere but up; all we can hope for is that the rise will continue fairly modest. Shelter, clothing, recreation, all are becoming more costly now.

By cutting take-home pay and thus reducing buying power, an income tax increase should moderate the price upsurge. In the words of Arthur M. Okun, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, "moderation of demand will permit a decisive first step on the road back to reasonable price stability at high employment."

But that's the most to anticipate. We are in it. There is no way out quickly. And we did it to ourselves.

URBAN RENEWAL IN ERIE

Erie urban renewal authorities are proud of this rehabilitated building at 202 W. 11th st. It houses the O'ra Jean Beauty Academy, which has an enrollment of more than 100 students. The academy had been displaced from one renewal project area; it was relocated in this building, formerly an automotive service center and then a retail store in a second project area. The building was remodeled with the help of a Small Business Administration loan after it had been acquired by the Erie Redevelopment Authority and then resold. It contains a styling room, classrooms, supply rooms, locker rooms, lounges, and administrative offices.

Medical Center Performs Second Heart Transplant

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Joseph Risor, a stocky 40-year-old Salinas, Calif., carpenter, received a new heart Thursday. Stanford University Medical Center said his condition was "fair" after 4½ hours of surgery.

Risor is the eighth person in the world to receive a human heart transplant. His was the second at Stanford where Dr. Norman E. Shumway and a team of heart specialists performed both operations.

The donor of Risor's new heart was a 45-year-old man who died of brain damage which doctors said was irreversible. The donor's family asked that his name not be revealed.

There was no immediate word on how the donor suffered the brain damage.

Shumway said that Risor was getting artificial respiration after the surgery because of a lung condition.

The family physician of the dark haired carpenter had referred him to Stanford in March so that the Shumway team could consider replacing his diseased heart. He had suffered a serious heart ailment for seven years.

"The next 10½ hours are critical," hospital physicians said after the transplant.

A spokesman added, however, that unless a drastic change occurs, the next report on Risor's condition would be at 10:30 a.m. PDT Friday.

Risor's wife Eileen was interviewed before the transplant surgery that lasted from 7:30 a.m. until noon.

"It never entered my mind that Joe would be selected for a heart transplant," Mrs. Risor said.

"I remember his comment how 'I wish that was me' following the first heart transplant by Dr. (Christian) Barnard in South Africa.

"At first I was shocked by the idea, but time and the knowledge of how desperately my husband wanted to undergo the operation has made me realize that this may be his only chance to live."

A Cape Town, South Africa, dentist, Phillip Blalberg, is the first long-term survivor of such a transplant. He has been discharged from the hospital and is reported doing well at home. His operation was Jan. 2.

The first transplant patient, Louis Washkansky, was operated on Dec. 3 by Barnard. This was followed by a New York infant on Dec. 6 and then the Blalberg surgery. Shumway's first such operation was on Jan. 6—on Mike Kasperak, who died 15 days later.

Pilot Escapes Injury In Light Plane Crash

FALLSINGTON, Pa. (AP) — The pilot of a light plane escaped injury Thursday after the two-seater craft crashed into the trees near this Bucks County community.

Christopher MacDonald, 25, of Philadelphia had taken off from Northeast Airport and was going to Morrisville, N.J., airport when the plane's engine stalled, police said.

Police said MacDonald was flying at less than 1,000 feet. He tried to find a landing field but instead hit the tops of the trees and ripped off the undercarriage of the plane.

Warren Trackmen Win Easily Get Ready for Youngsville

In tuning up for the Youngsville Invitational on Saturday, Warren's high-flying Dragons flexed a muscle in overtaking the Rockets of Titusville, 118½-31½.

Warren ran light against their Section II counterparts in obtaining their fourth straight section win. Coach Randas juggled his starting rotation around a bit in order to take the strain off of his mainstay.

Dave Cobb made the biggest news of the day on the hill when he switched over from his usual mile run and competed in the two-mile event. He breezed along the eight laps in a school record time of 10:00.5. This mark had been set last year by Bill Shaffer in 10:14.

Larry Maxwell brought a smile to the coaches' faces by pacing Cobb in the event and in turn bettering the old mark himself by three seconds. The District 10 record for the event is a 10:08.7 set by Stan Kalinowski of McDowell in 1966 and the Youngsville Invitational record holder is S. Hammer with a 9:58 last year.

Rick Nasman showed a remarkable improvement in his pole vaulting, as he cleared the bar at 12 feet 6 inches. Nasman, before he was injured couldn't do much more than 11 feet.

However, recently he has been receiving some tutoring from Warren's ex-star vaulter, Larry Jordan.

Warren reigned supreme in most events by capturing sixteen of the eighteen blue ribbons and stealing ten second place honors. The Rockets were stunned by Warren's sweep of the high hurdles, low hurdles, shot put, the discus and the triple jump. The Blue and White relay teams didn't help matters any by conquering their three events.

Ed O'Neill presided over the victory celebration with three wins under his belt. His 55.1 in the 440 was a half-second better than George Barker of Titusville. The javelin toss was his second victory and his final five points came with jaunting a leg of the mile relay.

Joe Cauley took two firsts and a second for a respectable 13 point output on the afternoon. His laurels came on the 220-yd. dash and the half-mile relay, while a 10.8 got him a second in the hundred.

For the second time in a row, Darrell Pusateri captured the shot put and the discus, while Dan Reynolds made away with his third straight long jump win. He now is up over the 19-foot mark with yesterday's leap of 19-feet 1-inch. Dan Krumm also improved on his jumping by bounding to 40-foot 6¾-inches in the triple jump on his fourth personal win of the year.

After the Youngsville Invitational the Warren thincads will hit the road again. This time they will close out the dual meet competition with the Oil City Oilers on Tuesday. Meet time is scheduled for 4 p.m.

Bench's 11th-Inning Single Leads Reds to 6-2 Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Johnny Bench's single with the bases loaded and two out in the 11th inning highlighted a four-run uprising that gave the Cincinnati Reds a 6-2 victory over San Francisco Thursday.

Bench, who was hitless in five previous at-bats, drilled his hit to left field, scoring Pete Rose and Tony Perez and breaking a 2-2 tie. Lee May also scored when Bench rounded first and was caught in a rundown. May beat first baseman Willie McCovey's throw to the plate.

Bench wound up at second and scored the fourth run of the inning on Tommy Helms' single.

Rose began the 11th with a walk off reliever Bill Henry, O-L.

Harris Named W&J Coach
WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — James R. Harris, 41, a high school basketball coach for 13 years, was appointed head basketball coach at Washington & Jefferson College Thursday.

He succeeds David K. Scarborough, who is leaving the coaching post after 12 seasons to become associate dean for student personnel at W. & J. In his 13 years of high school coaching, Harris' teams have won 161 games and lost 100. He was coach at Rochester High in Beaver County from 1964 through last season.

Before that he coached in Ohio at Pettisville, Warrensville Heights and East Liverpool.

With two out Rose stole second and Perez walked. Liddy McDaniels followed Henry and pinch hitter May beat out an infield hit, setting the stage for Bench, a rookie catcher.

McCovey sent the game into extra innings when he hit his fifth homer of the season with two out and none on in the ninth. Jim Hart's homer, his fifth, had given the Giants a 1-0 lead in the fifth inning.

The Reds went ahead with two out in the seventh when Giant starter Gaylord Perry walked Rose, Alex Johnson beat out a hit and Vada Pinson's single for one run.

Johnson and Pinson then pulled a double steal as catcher Bob Barton threw to second and Johnson beat Ron Hunt's return throw to the plate. Rose, who had two singles, extended his hitting streak to 17 games.

Ken Boyer Released

CHICAGO (AP) — Veteran Ken Boyer, 36, the National League's most valuable player for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1964, was unconditionally released by the Chicago White Sox Thursday.

Third baseman Boyer, in his 14th major league season, was dropped to make room for Bill Melton, obtained from the White Sox' Hawaii affiliate in the Pacific Coast League.

COLOR SLIDE THEATER

A home entertainment product that presents color television programs, color photography slides, or pre-recorded and home-made tapes on the same instrument was introduced here today by Sylvania Electric Products Inc.

The Sylvania Color Slide Theater represents the first major audio-visual innovation in home entertainment products since the introduction of color television. It combines the most popular forms of home entertainment into one compact instrument that is convenient to use and simple to operate.

A simple push-pull switch places the projection system in operation. The tape cartridge system may be used independently of the color television receiver and slide projection system for pre-recorded or home-made tapes.

Market Shows Substantial Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — After an indecisive start Thursday, the stock market pushed steadily forward to close with a substantial gain. Trading was active.

Volume was 14.24 million shares, compared with 14.44 million shares Wednesday. The New York Stock Exchange tape was five minutes late at the closing bell.

The market opened on a slightly higher note, but the advance petered out by the end of the first half-hour of trading. The market then reversed its downward trend and headed upward again. It sustained the advance to the close.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 4.85 points to 918.05.

Brokers described the market as one "in search of good news. Past experience shows that when the market is in an up-trend it seeks out reasons to continue that upward movement."

Of 1,537 issues traded, 817 advanced and 495 declined. New highs for the year totaled 191 and new lows 13.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 2.2 to 328.8, with industrials up 3.9, rails up 1.0, and utilities up .7.

The New York Stock Exchange index was up 33 cents in the average price of a share.

Commercial Credit, the most active stock, closed off 1 at 45 1/2 on 548,900 shares.

Of the 15 most active stocks, 11 advanced, 2 declined and 2 were unchanged.

Prices generally were higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Volume was 8.87 million shares, compared with 7.5 million Wednesday.

Poor People's Campaign Gets Off to Slow Start

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The late Dr. Martin Luther King's Poor People's March on Washington got off to a slow, creaking start Thursday—starting at the point where a sniper killed him April 4.

"The moment has come," the Rev. Ralph Abernathy told the crowd gathered for the memorial service. "The days of weeping are ended. The days of march have begun."

Led by a battered old wagon hauled by two top-eared mules, the some 400 who joined the symbolic 2½-mile march through a slum area walked eight abreast under a hot sun.

Lunches, cold drinks and portable restrooms awaited them at the line of buses chartered to carry many of them on to Marks—70 miles to the south in Mississippi's flat, freshly green Delta.

Southern Christian Leadership Conference spokesmen said those who make the trip will camp in Marks for two days—fanning out to recruit new marchers from Negroes in the area.

Dr. King's widow, a trim dignified figure in mourning black, spoke at the somber memorial service that preceded the march. The rolling cadence of her voice was oddly reminiscent of her husband's renowned oratorical style.

"On this spot where my husband gave his life for love and service to humanity, I pledge my loyalty and devotion to the work which he so nobly began," she said.

Mrs. King stood on the balcony of the Lorraine Motel, an angular, modernistic structure, looking down on the intent crowd—and on across the street, through the green screen of wild mulberry trees, to the window where the sniper lay in wait to kill her husband.

About 1,000 Negroes gathered in the motel parking lot for the memorial ceremony. A few whites were among them. Clusters of police were scattered around the area.

Two officers, armed with rifles, stood looking out the window where the sniper had stood before firing the shot that, in addition to killing Dr. King, triggered violent reaction in several cities that claimed other lives.

Abernathy, wearing blue denim instead of sober preacher's garb, told the crowd the Poor People's March will not exclude any color of people.

"We're not going to have white power or black power," he cried. "We're going to have poor power."

Dr. King envisioned the Poor People's Campaign and March on Washington to point up the plight of the nation's needy and underprivileged.

Records Show Alleged Killer Model Prisoner

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prison records show James Earl Ray, charged with murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was considered a model prisoner while in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan.

By the time Ray was released on April 5, 1958, he had earned—in addition to time off for good behavior—an extra 45 days early release for meritorious conduct.

He served two years and nine months of a three-year, nine-month sentence imposed by a Kansas City federal court for forging postal money orders.

Nothing could be found to show how Ray earned the extra 45 days early release—and Bureau of Prisons officials refused to make his record public. But other sources did.

In contrast to his Leavenworth record, Ray currently is an escapee from the Missouri State Penitentiary and received a general discharge rather than an honorable discharge from the Army in 1948 because of ineptness and lack of adaptability, the FBI has reported. While in the Army he served three months at hard labor for being drunk and resisting arrest, the FBI said.

Records also show: —Ray signed a parole waiver although he would have been eligible for parole 18 months before his release.

—Leavenworth psychiatrists apparently had little interest in Ray. Aside from routine examinations when he was imprisoned there July 7, 1955, there is no indication he was given—or needed—psychiatric help. His attitude was described as good.

Ray worked for a time in the Leavenworth bakery, fire department and paint shop.

Crucible Steel, Kidde to Merge

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Crucible Steel Co. announced Thursday approval of a merger with Walter Kidde & Company by the boards of directors of both firms.

The merger is subject to approval by stockholders of the two companies at meetings to be held in late June or early July.

Crucible is a maker of specialty steels, Kidde has 25,000 employees at more than 80 plants in 22 states and six foreign countries. It makes products in the fields of safety, security and protection; industrial and technological; and commercial and consumer.

The agreement provides for the exchange of Crucible common stock for shares of Kidde common and preferred stock. Each Crucible share will be exchanged for a ¼ share of Kidde convertible preferred plus 4.10 of a share of Kidde common or $28.75 worth of Kidde common, whichever is greater at the time the deal is completed.

TOUR POST OFFICE

Building Trades Council Okays Negro Apprentices

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia building and construction trades council, AFL-CIO, has approved a program to recruit more Negro apprentices.

But at the same time it adopted a resolution condemning the "Philadelphia Plan" requiring the hiring of a specific number of minority group employees on federal projects.

The council called the Philadelphia Plan "an illegal quota system."

Council members voted 70 to 30 Wednesday to launch an all-out program to recruit and tutor youths for minority groups.

The council will be joined by the Negro Trade Union Leadership Council business manager James L. Loughlin said employers would be asked to participate.

"We are also appointing a committee to meet with the General Building Contractors Association," said Loughlin, "to implement this program as an industry and not merely a union arrangement."

Robert McGlothen, on the staff of the national AFL-CIO civil rights department, said the program here is an extension of the AFL-CIO's overall civil rights program.

Regarding the Philadelphia plan McGlothen, a Negro, said, "I am opposed to the Philadelphia Plan which amounts to quota system. We believe in equal employment opportunity for everyone."

The plan requires contractors to hire a certain number of minority group employees on various federal projects, inability to implement the program locally has held up $19 million in federal construction projects. And the General Services Administration has ordered McGlothen & Co. to hire more Negroes or face sanctions on its $30 million U. S. Mint.

McGlothen said it hopes to start placing more Negro workers on the job by Friday.

TV SHOW RESCHEDULED

These Warren Area High School students, who were to appear with a group of Youngsville High School students on educational television this week, will appear next week instead. They will be on a half-hour sequence, "A Quick Look at Western Culture Today," of the WPSX-TV "World Culture" series. The students will discuss teenagers' views on world problems. Originally, they were to appear Wednesday and today, but a mixup in scheduling has set the broadcast ahead one week; it will be on Channel 3 at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, May 8, and at 9:05 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Friday, May 10. The students from Warren are (left to right) Dean Backstrom, John Harper, James Donick, and Janet Smith. Youngsville students on the program are Gary Baughman, George Sveta, Yvonne Craft and Polly Wilbert. (Photo by Mansfield)

PSEA, State Administration Wrangle Again Over Salaries

HARRISBURG (AP) — The wrangle over school salaries broke out anew Thursday between the principal teachers' lobby and the state administration.

Joseph J. Standa, president of the 80,000 member Pennsylvania State Education Association (PSEA), which is carrying the main thrust for higher pay, accused the state's chief school administrator with condoning low salary scales.

Standa made public a letter he said was sent to Dr. David H. Kurtzman, superintendent of public instruction, accusing him of defending "inadequacies."

Calling attention to recent statements by the superintendent, Standa wrote:

"You note the fact that the average beginning salary across the state is approximately $5,144 as if it were a great achievement. Is this competitive with an average beginning salary in Maryland and New Jersey in excess of $6,000, or of $6,200 in New York and Delaware?"

Last Friday, Kurtzman scored the PSEA, which claims to represent 80 per cent of the state's public school teachers, for voting sanctions on Gov. Shafer and the General Assembly for failure to enact a salary increase.

Through sanctions, the PSEA has explained it desires to make known that Pennsylvania is an undesirable state in which to teach.

A joint legislative conference committee is presently seeking to compromise differences over salary bills passed by the House and Senate. The House version had a price tag of $53 million; that of the Senate, $35 million. The Shafer administration favors the Senate measure.

"Teachers can no longer accept old promises and assurances, especially when our governor tries to clamp the lid on an inadequate $35 million package with the charge that no more money is to be found," Standa said. "He does this in one breath and then calls for more state spending for other new programs in the next breath."

Standa used the recent Pittsburgh riots to support his contention that more money must be allocated to the area of education. "The rioting, looting and burning in Pittsburgh, causing injuries to countless people, can be blamed as much as anything else, on the lack of equalized educational opportunity for those in the ghettos," Standa said. "The only way to rectify this damage is to provide money for the educational system so that children will obtain better education."

New Yorker Buys Penn-Sheraton

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Mayor Joseph M. Barr will ask the new owners of the Penn-Sheraton Hotel Friday to continue operating the building as a hotel.

The meeting with New York realtor Arthur Cohen will be in the mayor's office here.

Cohen bought the 1,600-room hotel, biggest in the state, from the Sheraton Corp. Wednesday when efforts by a Pittsburgh group to buy it fell through.

Barr said he would ask Cohen to operate the facility as a hotel at least until a new one can be built in Pittsburgh.

The Penn-Sheraton has been closed since it was hit by a strike last October.

Phila. Chamber Symphony Takes Musical Aim at State

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The struggling Chamber Symphony of Philadelphia, in a move aimed at survival, has changed its name, reorganized its board, named a new president, and taken musical aim at the rest of Pennsylvania.

Herbert L. Orlowitz, 39, the new president, says the aggregation will now be known as the Chamber Symphony of Pennsylvania. Orlowitz, board chairman of Capitol Pipe and Steel Products Inc., joins the board as the three-year-old orchestra gropes for a way to avoid sounding its last chord.

Its home audiences have dwindled, the costs of playing on tour have risen and half the players resigned this spring. Within a year, there have been four reorganizations.

Orlowitz has begun talks with community leaders and state officials, hoping to broaden the group's support.

"Things are happening fast and furiously," he said. "We are trying to broaden our base of support and are reaching out to get business leaders for the board. We are going to try to arrange series of concerts in Pittsburgh, Allentown and Erie, and we're looking for board members from those cities."

He said the new board will be announced later, but that lawyer Joseph Shaferin and Richard Robinson, former owner of Yellow Cab Co. of Philadelphia have joined it.

The chamber orchestra has found greater success outside Philadelphia, playing to sold-out houses in college towns. But audiences have been sparse at Philadelphia's Academy of Music. The orchestra played 21 concerts in Philadelphia last year, and more than 100 on tour throughout the country.

Internal dissension led to the dismissal of manager Samuel Flor last October. William Miles took over but was fired in January. Dr. Bertram W. Korn, senior rabbi at Reform Congregation Keneseth Israel, then took over, and will now become a board member.

It was under Korn that half the players of the 36-member organization resigned. Orlowitz said he would have contracts signed with 30 members this week, the full size of the reduced complement.

Ansel Brusilow conducts the group. It was formed in 1965, when Brusilow resigned as concertmaster of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

North Side Truck Driver, 32, Receives Carnegie Hero Medal

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A North Side man who climbed to the roof of a burning home to rescue two young children was among 28 persons cited for bravery Thursday by the Carnegie Hero Commission.

Donald R. Arrigo, a 32-year-old truck driver, received a bronze medal and $750. He was the only Pennsylvania honoree.

Arrigo rescued a neighbor's children, Patricia Imler, 1, and her brother Andrew, 4, after they and their mother were trapped by fire on the second floor of their home last Aug. 7.

He climbed to the roof of the porch and squatted in a gutter at the edge, 17 feet above the ground.

Using one hand to steady himself against a wall, Arrigo leaned out and caught the children one at a time with his free arm as the mother dropped them three feet. She then leaped safely to the ground.

The mother was injured in the fall, but recovered following hospitalization.

Among others honored was John L. Schutt, 29, a mechanic from Jamestown, N.Y. He received a bronze medal and $500 for rescuing Jon J. Druggan, 23, at the Kinzua Dam construction site near Warren, Pa., March 28, 1967.

Druggan fell into the icy Allegheny River and was swept downstream by the current. Schutt ran 550 feet to a cofferdam, tied himself to a post with heavy cord, swam 35 feet and intercepted Druggan, then towed him to safety.

Marine Pvt. Sandra Cowan Home On Leave in Sheffield

Marine Private Sandra L. Cowan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cowan, 31 School st., Sheffield, is now spending a twenty-day leave at her home here, after completing seven weeks basic training for Women Marines at Parris Island, South Carolina.

Following her leave, Marine Private Cowan reports to Camp Lejeune, North Carolina for four weeks intensive training at cooking school. When that course is completed she reports to Camp Pendleton, California, for duty with the Women's Marine Department at that base.

Sandra Cowan was graduated from Sheffield High School with the Class of 1966. She was prior to her enlistment, in the Woman's Marine Corps, employed at Warren State Hospital.

"I chose my field in the Marine Corps," she explains, "because I had enjoyed my work in the dietary department of Warren State Hospital, which interested me in this type of work." Upon enlistment in the Woman's Marine Corps, she chose the food service specialty as her field.

"I really like my work very much so far as a Woman Marine," she added.

If she chooses later on, she may elect overseas service. Already there are Women Marines serving in Japan, Korea and a few in South Vietnam in Saigon.

"At Parris Island I especially enjoyed my classes in physical training and the drill program. Also the swimming instruction, especially the system that makes it impossible to drown under any circumstances in the water."

Miss Cowan reports there were about 100 recruits in her group in training at Parris Island. Another earlier group completed their basic training before she did. "We then became the Seniors," she said, "and another junior group arrived before we completed our training." About 200 are in training all the time.

Total strength of Women Marines is about 2,100, all carefully selected young women. "I sincerely recommend that other girls seriously considering serving in the Woman Marines" Miss Cowan said.

Marine Private Sandra Cowan has already appeared at Eisenhower High School. She is expected to be visiting her alma mater, Sheffield High School, during the next few days.

THE FAMOUS UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN SYMPHONY BAND is being presented on Tuesday evening, May 7th, at 8 o'clock at the Jamestown High School auditorium. Sponsors for the concert are the Jamestown High School Band and the Music Parents Association. The band's appearance in Jamestown will be on their way home from a concert tour of Eastern New York cities, and a performance at the Lincoln Center, New York City. The band, said to be one of the world's finest (some say the finest), was selected by the State Department as the first band ever to represent the United States in the Soviet Union and the Near East as part of our cultural exchange program. The musicians traveled throughout the USSR, and in Egypt, Lebanon, Jordan, Cyprus, Turkey, Greece, Romania and Poland. To date, the band has cut four records for the "Vanguard" label: "Touchdown U.S.A.," "Hall Sousa," "On Tour With the Michigan Band" and "Kickoff U.S.A." Its director is William D. Revell.

CVCC LADY GOLFERS REMINDER: Make reservations for the "Mickey Wright's Glorious Opening Day" which is next Tuesday, May 7th. . . . In the afternoon there will be a nine-hole, best ball tournament for which participants will select their own foursomes. Dinner is to be served at 7 p.m. If you wish to play Duplicate Bridge, you are to sign at the club and select your partner. The committee in charge for the day includes: Mrs. J. Albert Loranger, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Gaston Hamilton and Mrs. Glen C. Werner for golf; Mrs. Robert A. Bowen, Mrs. Julius A. Fino and Mrs. J. Theodore Valone for table decorations and prizes.

CHARTERED BUS TRIPS were sponsored this week by the Warren County Association for Retarded Children for field trips to the Polk State School's open house. Senior students from Sheffield High School went on Tuesday, from Warren and Eisenhower High School on Wednesday, and from Youngsville High School yesterday. The students represented Future Teachers of America, Future Nurses of America and classes in Problems of Democracy.

A MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET is in the beginning stages of planning at the Sugar Grove Presbyterian Church. The date is Thursday, May 23rd, at 6:30, and it will be held in the Sugar Grove Elementary School. The committee members are Mrs. Clyde J. Arthur Jr., Mrs. Victor Spattfor, Mrs. Marvin Thorpe, Mrs. Michael Schult, Mrs. Elmer Collins. More information will be included in the letters which are being sent to the church women.

THE 50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY of Mr. and Mrs. S. Dewey Lon from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. on Sunday, May 5th, is taking place in the Pittsfield Community House. Their children invite all relatives, neighbors and friends to attend.

MINIATURES: The Youngsville Pre-School Mothers Club meets on Monday night at 8 in the all-purpose room of the Youngsville Elementary School. There will be election of officers, and a special speaker, Mrs. Geraldine Nelson, interior decorator. Mrs. Leonard Blause, Mrs. Richard Iseman and Mrs. Don Munson will serve refreshments.

Scandia Volunteer Fire Department's Ladies Auxiliary is holding a rummage sale at the Russell Fire Hall today and tomorrow. Store hours are being observed.

Cary, 5, and Glenn, 3, sons of Mrs. Robert Dobbs of Las Vegas, Nevada, arrived by plane at the Greater Pittsburgh Airport to visit their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Dobbs of New Court Place. They were met at the airport by their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Simonsen of Warren.

Warren FTA Members At Harrisburg Convention

Ten Warren County delegates to the Pennsylvania Future Teachers of America annual convention in Harrisburg on April 25, 26, 27, 1968 thrilled to hear former Miss America Marilyn Vanderver's assurance that each could achieve whatever he wished if he determines his goals and outlines a time table.

Former Governor George Leader challenged the eight hundred prospective teachers to "go where the action is, the ghetto." PSEA President-elect Dr. Helen Wise presented the keynote speech "Unity: the Keystone to Progress."

With these speakers, workshops, business sessions, regional meetings, elections, a special banquet, a luncheon, and a dance, the following members of the county's delegation found themselves busy but inspired: Shirley Passenger, Karen Channing, and advisor Mrs. Pauline Norton of Eisenhower High School; Tidioute High School's FTA president Linda Edmiston, convention workshop recorder Diana Hulings, and sponsor Mrs. Fred Barr. Also, Clara Trask, Jill Lyse, Tanya Kushner, and advisor Charles Herbert of Youngsville

The Halls Of Ivy

The National Society of Omega, an honorary society for sophomores, has chosen Sharon Fasenmyer as a member of the society at The Pennsylvania State University. Out of the entire freshman class at the university, only twenty-nine were chosen.

In her freshman year, Miss Fasenmyer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fasenmyer of Warren, has been active as chairman of Area Newman Dorm representatives; North Hall A.W.S. food and housing chairman; chairman of the International Student Committee; A.W.S. Review Board member; Philadelphia House Cultural Committee member; Folk Mass Choir member; PSEA member.

Members of the honorary society are chosen for their leadership, scholarship and personality.

Miss Fasenmyer was also given special recognition for being one of the outstanding leaders in North Hall. Only ten students were similarly recognized.

SHARON FASENMYER

Visiting Nurses Praised By Public Health Department

The Warren Visiting Nursing Association received high praise and great commendation from Miss Byrdice Tams, R.N., assistant director of the Department of Public Health Nursing of the National League, during her one day's official visit in Warren. She expressed great satisfaction with the professional nursing care and licensed therapy services offered by the local agency to the sick in their homes in Warren County.

In her conference with the nurses, Miss Tams noted that Mrs. Lindell, Mrs. Sirianni, and Mrs. Crozier have adequate qualifications for public health nursing, and she approved their method of recording patient charts. She reminded the nurses of their duty of making patients aware of financial responsibility.

The visiting director in a special meeting with Mrs. Frank Foster, chairman of the local Advisory Committee, helped in evaluating present policies and procedures and made some recommendations for later improvements.

In a general meeting with the Board members Miss Tams mentioned accreditation as an objective of the Warren Visiting Nursing Association. Accreditation stimulates continuous improvement in providing nursing services and encourages experimentation, self-study, and self-evaluation. Of the 219 accredited agencies, twenty-one are in Pennsylvania.

Miss Tams was a guest at the United Fund luncheon-meeting at the YMCA on Tuesday.

Grange News

Diamond Grange held its meeting with Master Ralph Rapp presiding. The lecturer introduced Judy Grosch, leader of the children's choir at Tiona Methodist Church which was giving the evening's program. The choir of thirteen little girls and boys sang four songs relating to the Easter season. Adelaide Cowley accompanied them at the piano.

The Rev. Meredith Swift of the Clarendon EUB Church was presented and gave a talk on the subject of Easter. The program was concluded with the forming of a cross at the altar and a prayer by Mr. Swift.

Mr. Rapp called the meeting to order in the Fourth Degree at 8:45; once again the membership decided to sponsor the Hot Stove League with Charles Johnson in charge again.

The next meeting will begin with a tureen dinner at 6:30 p. m. and at that time the Junior Choir from Epworth Methodist Church will sing.

There will be Pomona practice tomorrow for Pomona Grange which is to be held in the New London Hall on Saturday, May 11.

At the close of the meeting the committee in charge served refreshments.

Watson Grange, conducted by Master Ruby Wilcox, enjoyed the following program under the direction of Hope Nelson, county youth chairman: "A Song of Peace" by Sandy Durnell; Pocketbook game and exercise conducted by Ruth Jameson; a skit "Time To Rewind" by Bob and Jean Hollabaugh, Denny Durnell and Hope Nelson; a quiz on farm animals by Judy Martin. The program closed with a Friendship Circle and the singing of "Blest Be The Tie That Binds".

At the meeting it was agreed to make a sign and place it at the entrance of the Lenhart Cemetery. Everyone was reminded of Pomona Grange which takes place on May 11, at the New London Grange at 10 a. m.

The next Watson Grange meeting will be held on Thursday, May 9, with Carol Hollabaugh and Faye Anderson serving lunch.

Q. I finally found MY perfume, an unusual fragrance that couldn't be confused with anyone else's. But, after all my searching, the perfume doesn't last!

A. Maybe you're using perfume in the wrong places! Perfume dabbed behind the ears, contrary to tales told, is strategically placed. Instead put a few drops on pulse spots — the inside of wrists, your temples, the crook of your arm, and along your throat. In the pulse spots, blood is close to the surface and its warmth helps to radiate scent. Another way to use fragrance so it lasts: Put a few drops of perfume on a Kleenex tissue to tuck into your bra.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Two years ago my husband's father passed away. My mother-in-law, who had always treated him like dirt, suddenly became the most grief-stricken woman of the 20th Century. She cried, screamed, fainted, fasted, threw herself on everybody—especially her eldest son, my husband. The biggest mistake of his life was saying to her at the funeral, "Don't worry, Mother, you will never be alone. You can count on us." She took him up on it right there and then and moved into our home the following week. She couldn't bear to part with her dining room set so mine had to go. Her new freezer and refrigerator, which we could have used, went to her daughter. She had such strong sentimental attachments to her pictures, vases, throw rugs, and other assorted pieces of trash that she had to bring them along. Our once lovely home now looks like a second-hand junk shop. I could stand it if all she ruined was the looks of our home, but she is ruining my health and my marriage and our relationship with our children. Although this woman has a lovely large room she is never in it. She sits in on every conversation and voices her opinion on matters which do not concern her. When I call my husband, SHE answers. When I call my children SHE answers. When I speak to her she doesn't hear me. Please tell me what to do. My mother-in-law is driving me nuts.—SINKING FAST.

Dear Sinking: It doesn't sound like a drive to me, lady. It sounds like a putt. And small wonder. Two years is a long time to be imprisoned in your own home. There is only one solution to your problem—find your mother-in-law another place to live. And don't say you can't afford it. It's cheaper than sending you to a mental hospital—or maintaining separate roofs for you and your husband after you've filed for a divorce.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My 20-year-old daughter is expecting her husband back from Vietnam in May. She has not seen him in over a year. Unfortunately, she is pregnant and the baby is due just about the time her husband is scheduled to come home. He knows nothing of his wife's condition. For financial reasons Maryanna is getting her maternity care at a military base. I understand from what I have read in the papers that the Red Cross notifies the men overseas when they become fathers. I have begged my daughter to write her husband and tell him of her condition but she refuses to do so. I just hate to have the Red Cross representative tell my son-in-law he is a father when he knows the child can't possibly be his. Is there any way we can stop the Red Cross from relaying the message? Thank you for your assistance.—TROUBLE IN THE FAMILY

Dear Family: Your daughter ought to discuss this problem with the chaplain of the hospital where she will have the baby. She should explain the circumstances and ask him to intercede on behalf of the young man. It would be a shattering blow if he received the news in that manner.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

DEAR FOLKS:

We had a screened-in porch with no closed ceiling. The unpainted rafters and beams looked awful.

I tried to figure how much it would cost to paint the plywood, beams and rafters to make it look more attractive. But that much paint would cost too much, besides all the labor and difficulty getting up there.

Yet our neighbor told me that the porch would be much cooler if we put a ceiling in. So I watched the sales and bought some matchstick draperies that are ordinarily used for drop-curtains along screened-in porches.

We removed all of the strings and attachments and my husband just stapled them to the 2 x 4 beams going across the porch. They work great to make a "dropped ceiling."

I bought the cheapest PLASTIC ones I could find. They are lightweight and on the ones I bought, it said, "mildew and mold-free." The wooden matchstick draperies don't say this.

So if you are in a tight spot and need to replace a ceiling, why not try this?

It just dawned on me these plastic matchstick draperies would be lovely to use on your den ceiling.

I have been in older homes where the paint is peeling on high ceilings and it would cost a fortune to scrape off all of those coats of old paint and replace it.

So why not use a staple gun and staple these matchstick draperies to the ceiling? It will do until you feel your budget will allow you money to do it like it originally was.

You might even find that you like it better.

I do.

Just mix a drop or two of food coloring in white shoe polish and spread on the shoes

Q. I'm a conversation drop-out. Say something to me and my only reply is a big blushing silence. Have any gambits for filling silence gaps?

A. Interesting people are those who are interested. First, listen actively. If you are absorbed in what the other person is saying, he may just keep right on talking! And keep abreast of the news. Read, read, read — magazines, newspapers, and books are all good sources of conversation gambits, from Beethoven to the Beatles, fashion to football. Try it — and see if you don't drop into more conversations!

To keep a can of paint from tipping over, cut a circular hole in a soap or cereal box and set the can on it. This also gives a place to rest the brushes.

DEAR HELOISE:

Here's one for gals who take flowers to work in their car and have the problem of spilled water or a broken bouquet. I have a little box which fits the hump in the floor of the car and is weighted on both sides.

It's ideal to hold the vase and flowers. No worry about tipping when turning the corners.

DEAR HELOISE:

I have a small canister set made up of one-cup jars of flour, sugar, dry milk, coffee and meal.

When I run out of the regular supply by accident, I always have another cupful on the shelf.

Every once in a while I put the contents in the regular canisters and put a fresh supply in my emergency set.

It's wonderful to have that around and scare the birds away.

Opening lead: Queen of ♠ North's lack of restraint during the auction prevented the partnership from reaching the more desirable contract of three no trump. The jump bid of four clubs was not well chosen. North considered that he held an opening bid facing a partner who had opened the bidding. He, therefore, felt that game should be reached.

He seems to have overlooked the fact that this refers to 9 or 10 trick games. Where a minor suit game is in contemplation, the partnership will require a little more.

In support of clubs, the North hand is worth 13 points [12 in high cards and one for distribution]. Now, if opener has a minimum hand counting only 13 or 14 points, there will be no game in clubs, for such a game requires 28 or 29 points, but there may be game in no trump which requires about 26 high card points. In this case, a more restrained raise to only three clubs would have been sounder strategy, permitting opener to try for a no trump game if his hand is suitable.

In the play of the hand, South redeemed his partner. The queen of diamonds was opened, and declarer failed into the error of taking this trick, the contract could not have been fulfilled. For, as declarer attempted to establish a long heart, East could not have been prevented from obtaining the lead in time to come thru the king-jack of spades.

When West's queen of diamonds was permitted to hold, he continued the suit and South was in with the king. He cashed the king of clubs, then dummy was entered with the ace of clubs and a heart discard taken on the ace of diamonds. Now the king, ace, and a heart ruff, established a long heart in dummy upon which declarer discarded a spade. In all he lost one diamond and one spade trick on the deal.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, FOR FRIDAY, May 3, 1968.

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—You must recognize your limitations, of course, but aim to increase your boundaries judiciously, through earnest, intelligent study and observation, and you will progress the sure, lasting way: Start now!

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—According to your property set up program, are you up to, or behind, schedule? Side-stepping important details? Answer yourself these and other questions thoroughly; make adjustments.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Ask yourself, like Taurus, if your program is properly drawn up. Are you following through in a valid, effectual manner? Protect your due rights and privileges through responsible action. Stress accuracy.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—Some spectacular situations are indicated, but certain "dull" matters will require attention nonetheless. Stress clear-cut thinking, judicious penetration, level-headedness.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—What you ordinarily do may not be the thing now. A favorite activity or pastime may have to be bypassed. Meet eventualities with perception and poise.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—This could be a livelier day than anticipated, but Virgoans can meet all situations with grace and agility. If day does NOT please in part, it's for YOU to work on, remedy.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—Take a dignified approach to all problems now. In personal relationships there may be some differences to recognize, cope with.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 23)—Note the questions others ask, where they place their trust. This is not so that you may follow, but to be guided in using your own powers of evaluation.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—A tip-top period for achieving happiness through personal relationships—especially with family and close friends. Make this day stand out.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—Some expansion indicated; retrenching needed in other areas. Be equal to your obligations. You have an innate sense of propriety; make it work potently.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—Especially favored now. Students, teachers, technicians. Make the most of your skills and adaptability. Even if gains seem slow in coming, take all in stride.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—Be discriminating in what you say and how you act now. Efforts will be judged first on content and intent, then on quantity. The middle road means "safe," not just expedient.

YOU BORN TODAY are roundly capable, always ready for action; are really disappointed when not in the middle of something interesting. Your compulsion for keeping busy usually leads you to undertakings beyond the ordinary; and you may have more than one career in a lifetime. Your enthusiasm for life and ambition sparkles, but you may be too obstinate, even dogmatic at times. Rectify this! Birthdate of William Inge, playwright.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

ANTICIPATE TROUBLE
There are many health aspects to anticipation. It is the key to accident prevention, because it means eliminating potential booby traps in and around the house. Numerous injuries and fatalities are traceable to stumbling over boxes, toys, and similar objects left on the stairs. Scatter rugs on a slippery floor are one of the most frequent causes of broken hips in the elderly. Children have been scalped by grabbing a pothole that protruded from the top of the stove. These accident-makers are not new and I'm willing to bet that at least one exists in your home.

An elderly woman was found dead at the foot of the basement stairs. The home in which she lived had a long, unlighted hall with two doors at the far end. One led to the bathroom; the other to the cellar. There is no need to elaborate; this woman might be alive today if a few dollars had been spent on a hall light with a switch near the entrance.

When certain symptoms arise, the individual should be on the alert for trouble in a sensible and mature fashion. Chest pain, indigestion, bleeding, or persistent cough may be warning signals of a serious illness. It is here that early diagnosis often proves life-saving. Consulting the physician when such manifestations exist does not mean that a person is a hypochondriac or a neurotic.

Some years ago, all the heart remedies I carried in my physician's bag had been used up. It was late at night and I was in no mood to stop at the hospital pharmacy for a fresh supply. Fortunately, I did. In the wee hours of the morning, I was called by my neighbor who was having a heart attack. Stopping to replenish the medicines may have been a premonition, but I prefer to call it anticipation.

TOMORROW: Common Rectal Complaints.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

NERVE ROOT PAIN
P.V. writes: What is radiculitis?
Pressure by a vertebra on the root of a spinal nerve causes pain that radiates along the course of the nerve. Radiculitis frequently is noted in the chest, with pain between the ribs. When pressure is on the sciatic nerve, soreness extends down the back of the leg.

HEAD INJURY AND WHISKY
A reader writes: Why is a person who suffered a head injury denied a shot of whisky?
Alcohol taken immediately after a head injury may increase congestion, aggravate the condition, or mask symptoms. Now and then a person who has had a brain injury or operation becomes overly sensitive to liquor.

TEETH AND ARTHRITIS
J.H. writes: Would bad teeth contribute to a form of arthritis, commonly referred to as "water on the knee"?
No. At one time, foci of infection in the teeth and tonsils were blamed for a variety of illnesses, including arthritis. This theory was disproved several decades ago.

MORNING MOVIE on Ch. 11 at 10 a. m. is "Three on a Spree" starring Jack Watling and Carole Lesley. In order to inherit eight million pounds, a man must spend a million pounds in 60 days. He can't give it away, tell anyone, or have anyone help him spend it and he must have receipts.
STAR TREK on Chs. 2, 6, and 12 at 8:30 p. m. has Captain Kirk and two officers becoming prisoners on a planet where inhabitants are slaves to highly-developed masses of bodiless brains in "The Gamesters of Triskelion".
FRIDAY NIGHT MOVIE on Chs. 4, 10 and 35 at 9 p. m. is "Days of Wine and Roses", starring Jack Lemmon and Charles Bickford. A public relations man persuades his wife to become a "social drinker" and in time both become confirmed alcoholics. Convinced he needs help, he joins the A.A. and becomes cured — but his wife refuses to help herself.
NEWS SPECIAL on Chs. 2 and 12 at 10 p. m. features "We Won't Go", a close-up film study of a radical new breed of young Americans who are resisting the draft by turning in their draft cards and refusing service in the armed forces. The special will examine these young people, many of whom not only oppose the draft and the war, but who also say they have lost faith in American society, and the American democratic system.

Lions Club Launches Battle on Black Fly

Once again the Lions Club is sponsoring the fight to rid us and all other polluted areas of the black fly. Once these small but mighty pests of man and animals are hatched out, it is impossible to mow the lawn, work in the garden, stroll the streets, and most of all try to sit on the lawn or enjoy a picnic. Commonly called buffalo or turkey gnats, these small dark flies are just about one-eighth inch long... just the right size to lodge in an eye, ear or nose often requiring a doctor to remove them.

The female is the only one that bites and death may result from suffocation from plugged nasal passages and bronchial tubes; allergic reactions or death due to enough blood being removed from the victim to cause death. The bites cause pain and itching that may last for several days. Many of these flies need a blood meal to lay eggs.

But the female is not the only pest of this family, the males do their share by flying into the face and ears. The flying range of black flies is usually about 10 miles but may be much farther accounting for infestations where there are no streams. Where do they come from and how do they hatch? All immature black fly stages need moving water for their development for food and oxygen. Therefore they are not found in swamps or ponds as is generally supposed, but in those parts of streams with riffles. The female deposits her eggs on submerged water plants, rocks, leaves or twigs or just scatters them over the surface of the water. The eggs hatch in four to five days when the water reaches 70 degrees. The adult female lives from a few days to more than three months although they prefer calm sunny days we have known them to bite most any day. They do not fly at night or on windy days.

Lion Bob Schwab heads the committee of Walter McKown, Ronald Weller, Tom Walsh and Bill Daehliussen, who are working on this pest. Last Thursday, April 25, Bob was visited by Stanley Green, Entomology Specialist, of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Extension Service, University Park, Pa. Green left a pamphlet on Public Health Entomology covering the black fly. Excerpts are used in this article.

Besides the hazards already mentioned, black flies may prove important in the transmission of encephalitis (sleeping sickness). A recent outbreak in Columbia, S. America has been attributed to black flies.

What are the best methods of control? These are directed toward reducing the number of breeding grounds. Removal of vegetation and as many objects as possible in streams will help cut down the number of larvae. Temporary damming of water can also reduce populations, since the immature stages need swift running water. They will die within 10 to 24 hours without it. Treatment of streams with insecticides would provide excellent control, however no insecticides are at present approved for use in fish-inhabited waters in Pennsylvania. (Now it seems to be a choice between the chance of catching a few trout or having these pests with us all summer.)

Common causes of flies being attracted to humans are carbon dioxide present in exhaled breath, dark colors, moisture, perspiration, perfumes, after-shave lotions, and hair creams. Repellants may offer some relief but the success depends on these factors: individual human differences... some people are more attractive to the flies than others, also people differ in the rate they lose repellants; environmental conditions such as: the temperature, humidity, or time of day, but there are flies that will bite regardless of the repellent or the amount used.

Any of the following repellants are suggested by their generic names: ethyl hexanediol, diethyl toluamide, citronella, or dimethyl phthalate. You will have to consult the list of ingredients on a repellent can to identify any of these names.

Fogging for control of these flies is only temporary, since only the flies that come in contact with it are eliminated. Insecticides suitable for fogging are dichlorvos (DDVPO, malathion, or synergized pyrethrins. Daily treatment is necessary when flies are abundant outside of the treated area.

Sgt. Robert L. Morrison, son of Mrs. Irene Morrison, 149 Main st., has just been awarded a Bronze Star for meritorious service and bravery during the Tet offensive in Saigon.

Already Morrison is getting to be an old-timer in the Vietnamese area. In Oct. 1965 he re-enlisted for three years duty there which started in Dec. '65 after serving six months in the Dominican Republic. For 28 months he served in the 716th M.P. Battalion in Saigon as a patrol and security supervisor. During this time, Morrison said he had no contact with the Viet Cong except for minor turnout activities only to clean up after they left.

When the Tet Offensive was launched, Morrison says, "As fate would have it, I was to lead 12 M.P.'s into battle in Saigon and succeeded in delaying a Viet Cong main force forming to occupy Saigon and start a revolution among the Vietnamese there in the capital. We miraculously made it through 12 hours of hell and all of us made it out of there without a scratch."

Following this severe siege, he received a 30 day leave from Feb. 13-March 13, 1968 which he spent with his mother here. During his leave he received a letter from a buddy saying he was getting a Bronze Star for his action in Saigon but he rather felt he was being put on. When he returned to Saigon he did receive the Star.

Morrison has extended his time in Vietnam three times for six months each, and expects to be mustered out in Oct. '68. At the present time he is out of the M.P.'s and is an instructor in the English language to Vietnamese Army interpreters.

He first enlisted in the Tank Division in 1960 following graduation in June at the age of 17. Shortly after, due to his father's serious illness, he was discharged and returned to Tidioute to assist his mother.

At this time his father, Robert Morrison who had been gassed with mustard gas and shell shocked in World War I, was a complete invalid resulting in his death Jan. 1962. Prior to becoming an invalid, Morrison marched in all the Memorial Day parades, then he had to ride, and the last years he participated he was taken on a cot, the last year, when he lived over the bank, the parade changed its route to pass his home where he was propped up in a window. All of the Military paused to salute him.

Young Morrison re-enlisted in 1963 as an M.P. and had his schooling in Georgia, then spent a year in Okinawa, then to the Dominican Republic for six months before flying to Vietnam.

He says that when he gets home he would like to write some stories relating what he went through in Vietnam and what he learned there. We hope he does.

Tom Miller, youngest son of Mary and the late Glenn Miller who built the Pittsburgher Inn, enlisted in the Navy Sea Bees in Warren in 1965. His boot training was done at Fort Huachuca, Calif. He then went to Rhode Island as a MCB 6 and from there to Cuba, to Vietnam, back to the States on leave, then back to Vietnam.

He was separated from the Navy on Apr. 25 at 9:55 a.m. and was in Tidioute the next morning at 6:30 a.m. to renew old acquaintances. On Monday of this week, April 29 he started to work at Jones & Laughlin Steel in Pittsburgh. He was a 1964 High School graduate here.

SAFETY SYSTEM
GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) — Donald Coakley of Golden has devised a simple system that he says would help prevent school bus crashes at railroad crossings.

The system would involve a low-powered radio transmitter in every locomotive and a simple flasher-buzzer radio receiver in the bus.

"The approaching train could then warn the driver with a flashing red light and a buzzer right on his dashboard, whenever a school bus nears a crossing," Coakley said.

Littering is Topic for Garden Club

Mrs. Guy Courson was program chairman for the Tuesday, April 30 meeting of the Tidioute Area Garden Club which met at 8 p. m. in the Presbyterian Church social rooms.

Her guest speaker was Norman Sickles of Tionesta and assistant George Jones, both of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission who told what could be done to promote the Anti-Litter Campaign, and also what had been done in certain areas within his jurisdiction.

Saying that "littering" is a borrough responsibility which should begin with the children, he praised the Boy Scouts of Tionesta for the fine job they had done there. Also that Marienville has perhaps done more than any other community in the area to clean up and beautify its village. Practically everyone, young and not-so-young have participated. Some have lent and used machinery for bulldozing or grading; some have furnished top soil, trees or plants. Two old school flag poles have been brought to the square and set up. A business man has agreed to take care of the daily flag raising and lowering. Winning a high degree of praise has been the work done by the men from Blue Jay Job Corps who worked as devotedly as if the town belonged to them.

Hostesses for the May 28 meeting will be Mr. and Mrs. George B. King and Lisle Peters.

Cubs to Skate

Tidioute Cub Scouts are asked to get in touch with their Den mother or Pack Leader Robert Schwab for the May program. Schwab said that arrangements are being made for a roller skating party at the rink in Warren sometime during the week of May 12.

Little rain falls on the Arctic, but its soil stays wet because drainage is poor and evaporation slow.

Sanford & Grand Valley News

By LILY GARBER
Mrs. Mildred Brecht of Jamestown, N.Y., visited her sister Mrs. Susie Ongley on Wednesday and spent the night with another sister Mrs. Estelle Pierce.
Mr. Victor Loggren returned from his winter home in Plant City on Friday and reports the weather was really hot there when he left.
Mr. and Mrs. Howard Garber and Mr. and Mrs. Fay Eastman called on Mr. and Mrs. Tarr and Mr. and Mrs. Cherry at West Spring Creek Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Cherry returned recently from their winter home in Pine Grove, Fla.
Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Holcomb were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leo McCloskey at Tidoute.
Mrs. Ella Gates, Mrs. Charlotte Hillman, Mrs. Betty Danielson and Mrs. Esther Thompson were among those that attended the spring "Homemakers" round-up that was held at the Jackson Valley Country Club. A special program was put on by the different groups.
Mr. and Mrs. Ilio Scott left Friday to spend the week-end with their daughter Mrs. Carl Smith at Ballston Spa, N.Y. They returned Monday night.
There were 10 present for the Cadets Scouts cookout Monday night at the home of Mrs. Ila Moroski. Mrs. Harold Huntington of Tidoute was present and gave a talk on the Cadets having a Tupperware party to raise money for their group.
Tuesday night the Junior Scouts will meet in the Fellowship Hall where they will be making May baskets for the shut-ins.

Rickie Upton spent Saturday night with his grandmother Mrs. Carl Garber, his mother Mrs. Lucy Upton called for him on Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. John Pasterchak accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Howard Garber to the sale of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mitchell. Leon Mitchell was able to ride to the sale, his son-in-law Basil Pokosk brought him in the truck. This was his first time out in three months since he went to the hospital in Erie. His leg where it was amputated is healing quite satisfactorily.
The W.S.W.S. will be holding their annual picnic on May 13th at the Wesley Woods Camp.
Roger and Rodney Danielson spent the weekend with their aunt Mrs. Lois Moravak in Corry. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Clara Pierce were dinner guests of Mrs. Moravak and attended the "Sacred Musical Concert" held in the Christian Missionary Alliance Church. The boys returned home with them.
There will be services each night in the EUB Church, Grand Valley, 7:45 p.m. Rev. Bertil Peterson will be the speaker each night and will continue until Sunday night. The public is invited.

Can the Shingles on your roof withstand the fury of a 100 MPH wind?

Bird Wind Seal "JETS" have.

We tried to tear Bird Wind Seal "JET" shingles off our test roof — and couldn't! Even though the jet airplane's motors whipped up 120 mph hurricane winds and powerful fire hoses tore at the shingles, the revolutionary "JET" stayed down. The ordinary shingles flapped up and blew away.

How come? Every Bird Wind Seal "JET" shingle has powerful adhesive dots that weld the shingles to each other and to the roof. (There are over 19,000 of these dots on an average roof.)

If you're building, or re-roofing, see the Bird Wind Seal "JET" now. And see what it can do for your home and peace of mind. Call today.

Jet Fighter Crashes, Pilot Walks Away

EMLENTON, Pa. (AP) — A jet fighter plane crashed into trees and burned Thursday in a crash-landing. The commander of a New York National Guard unit walked away with minor injuries.

Col. Curtis J. Irwin said he ran out of fuel in his F-86 and tried to land on Interstate 80 near here.

The single-seat craft missed the highway by 50 feet, plowed into trees and flipped over. Wreckage was scattered around, and one wing snapped and stuck up into tree branches.

Two residents who heard the crash and rushed to the scene found Irwin sitting on a hillside. Irwin, commander of the 174th Tactical Fighter Group, was taken to Oil City Hospital with a dislocated shoulder. His condition was described as satisfactory.

Witnesses said the fire was only a small one, but it sent up thick black smoke. A volunteer fire company reached the scene minutes after the crash and put out the fire.

State police said Irwin, 45, of North Syracuse, N.Y., was on a training flight from Syracuse to Erie.

He brought it over the four-lane highway and tried to land on an unused portion of the road, which is only partially open because it is undergoing construction.

Woman Killed, Son Wounded; Husband Held

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A woman was shot to death and her 12-year-old son wounded Thursday in their apartment in nearby Verona. Homicide detectives took the woman's estranged husband into custody and said he will be arraigned later.

Helen Balardi, 38, was dead on arrival at Pittsburgh Hospital after being shot in the chest with a .38 caliber revolver in the living room of her second floor apartment.

Detectives said her son, Joseph Steele, was hit in the right leg by a ricocheting bullet. He was reported in fair condition at the hospital.

Held by authorities was Mrs. Balardi's husband, Joseph, 47, of nearby Oakmont.

Columbia University Offers New Concessions to Rebels

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia University offered new concessions to its campus rebels Thursday, in an effort to end the 10-day battle of Morningside Heights and reopen classrooms for its 25,381 students.

Classes at Columbia have been suspended for a week, with no indication they can be resumed before next week at the earliest.

Nearly all city police were withdrawn during the day from the Ivy League campus in up-town Manhattan's Morningside Heights. They were summoned in force earlier in the week to clear five buildings occupied by student demonstrators. There were 720 arrests in the ensuing melee.

In addition, Columbia's Board of Trustees agreed to consult with community leaders on the fate of a controversial $11.5-million gymnasium being constructed in Morningside Park, which separates the university from Harlem.

The trustees also offered to consider demands for a greater student-faculty voice in the policies of the 214-year-old school, one of the nation's oldest and most esteemed.

The trustees action came amid plans for a student strike when classrooms reopened. A strike committee claimed the support of more than 4,000 Columbia students. Among other things, they are demanding the ouster of President Grayson Kirk, who brought the police onto the campus.

The Columbia demonstration

At the request of Mayor John V. Lindsay, the university last week announced it was halting gym construction for the time being. The trustees agreed Thursday that "consultations and negotiations with community leaders shall be held before a decision is reached as to whether or not construction of the gymnasium will be resumed."

The board also named a special committee to consult with faculty, students, alumni and administrative officers and to begin April 23 in protest over the use of 2.1 acres of the 30-acre Morningside Park for the gymnasium. Negro activists long had opposed the gym, charging racism on the part of Columbia in encroaching on Harlem recreational property.

recommend "changes in the basic structure of the university."

A student strike committee demanded a student-faculty senate with power to make major policy decisions, without their being subject to veto by the trustees.

"Events have indicated that the trustees cannot be trusted," John Rousmaniere, a strike leader, told a news conference.

At the request of Mayor John V. Lindsay, the university last week announced it was halting gym construction for the time being. The trustees agreed Thursday that "consultations and negotiations with community leaders shall be held before a decision is reached as to whether or not construction of the gymnasium will be resumed."
